Alternative investments are often speculative and involve a high degree of risk. Investors could lose all or a substantial amount of their investment. Alternative investments are suitable only for eligible, long-term investors who are willing to forgo liquidity and put capital at risk for an indefinite period of time. They may be highly illiquid and can engage in leverage and other speculative practices that may increase the volatility and risk of loss. Alternative investments typically have higher fees than traditional investments. Investors should carefully review and consider potential risks before investing. All investments involve risk, including the possible loss of principal.

THANK YOU, FROM OUR TEAM TO YOURS

Few might have thought that a brand new association might have had the traction that we have. Founded on February 5, 2018, we gathered 100 members by the end of that year and stand now at about 180 members. Our signature events, such as the CAASA Annual Conference and our Family Office Summit in Toronto each May, are what some members join for – sometimes rather explicitly – but the other fifty (50) events that we organize each year further define our mission and value proposition to membership and the industry at large. Socials, the 15-part Starting an Alts Fund Series (offered as an on-demand webinar and covering hedge as well as PE and VC funds), single and multi-part format events including keynotes, speed-dating, panels, and workshops all exemplify our commitment to bringing people together as they like and providing a forum for the discussion of ideas and the formation and curation of business and social connections.

Our little team of three – we welcomed Paul mid-2019 to support our many events and initiatives – is augmented by a cadre of stalwart supporters who really make some of our events happen. We could not do so without them!

Feedback is also very important to use, ego-crushing as it might be. If you have ideas for events, improvements we should make, or compliments for features that you really liked, we are all ears. We use these comments and suggestions in our on-going program construction and enhancement so please let us know if there is anything you liked, didn't like, or might offer as an improvement.

So, thank you for making the first 2 years of our existence a fantastic experience and benefit for members and the industry and we look forward to hearing from you and seeing you again soon!

Your CAASA Team

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR DAYS WITH US

Back by popular demand, our tête-à-tête sessions number twenty (20) and are 15 minutes in length, over both days. Using our mobile app and/or web portal, you can book as many meetings are you like during these scheduled times as well as during breaks and lunches. We ask that you refrain from meeting during our plenary and speaking sessions, as a courtesy to others and the speakers, and keep in mind that you can use the app (as many do) to schedule meetings outside of the conference schedule.

We also offer a series of 20-minute table-talks (see left) that speakers, sponsors, and investors can take advantage of on Monday morning. You can participate in up to 7 of them over the course of the morning, or the concurrently-scheduled talks (please be advised that the Chris Schindler talk from 9:30-10:30 am is strictly exclusive to investors and academic scholars).

If you have any ideas on formatting and topics for next year, please let us know!

We are an alternative investment fund manager providing leading-edge solutions for investors.

For almost two decades our experienced team has launched numerous investment solutions in a variety of product structures. The people and approaches we discover may not be well known, but we believe they provide something remarkable – access to what’s next.

Canadian Investors Lead a Global Shift to Alternatives

In 2019, CIBC Mellon published “The Race for Assets: Canada vs. the World”, a study of 50 Canadian Institutional Investors’ attitudes and plans for investment into alternative asset classes.

What sets Canadian institutional investors apart?

- 1 Higher priority on co-investment and direct investment
- 2 Greater tolerance of investments requiring long hold periods
- 3 Greater emphasis on the use of technology to lower costs
- 4 Greater demand for lower fees from investment managers
- 5 Greater focus on environmental, social and governance issues

Canadian institutional investors’ satisfaction with performance over 12 months, by asset class.

Some conference delegates organize private dinners, either beforehand or ad hoc through the meeting mobile app/portal. Feel free to use this technology to connect with your fellow conference-goers. CAASA does not release contact information of attendees at any of its events so use this opportunity to connect with folks and create new relationships before these two days are done!

If you find yourself in conversation with someone during a panel discussion, please move away from the plenary room’s entrance so that those in the room are not distracted from the session.

Our town crier will be sure to move people along so that you know when the next part of the program is about to begin - be sure you’re ready for his loud bell and bellowing voice!

ABOUT CAASA

INCLUSIVE, ACTIVE, AND PAN-ALTERNATIVE

The Canadian Association of Alternative Strategies & Assets (CAASA) was created in response to industry requests for a national group to represent the Canadian alternative investment participants, including investors, asset managers, and service providers. CAASA is inclusive in that it welcomes participation from all companies active in the space as well as select individuals (those with investors) who might want to participate in committees and working groups - or simply attend member events - without their employer being a member of the association. CAASA is very active in both committees & groups and events: 50+ events, including this conference, have occurred or are planned in 2018. Pan-alternative, for CAASA, encompasses all alternative strategies and assets including: hedge funds / alternative trading strategies, private and public real estate (funds and direct), private lending, private equity, development & project finance, digital assets / crypto-assets, weather derivatives & cat bonds, and all aspects of diligence, trading, structuring, dealing, and monitoring alternatives in a stand-alone portfolio and as part of a larger investment strategy.

MEMBER BENEFITS

Investors join CAASA to be a part of a formal network of pension plans, foundations, endowments, sovereign wealth funds, and family offices to discuss ideas, strategies, and operational issues particular to their businesses - all within a closed group where managers and service providers may or may not be included, depending on the forum.

Managers see the association as a way to connect with peers, investors, and service providers to speak to fund structuring, sales & marketing, and regulatory issues. CAASA is not a capital introduction platform, but we do create forums where investors and managers can meet organically or via structured meeting sessions, such as at this conference, where participation by the investors is strictly opt-in.

Service providers participate in our events and working groups as well as assist in the production of thought leadership pieces which provide relevant information to both association members and the industry and investing public at large.

NATIONAL AND GLOBAL

CAASA believes that the Canadian alternatives industry has a great deal to offer Canadians and the global community. The Canadian Model of Pension Management is well-known for its large alternatives focus, managed in-house in many cases with substantial allocations to external managers as well. Canadian investment managers operate in a robust regulatory regime (of hedge fund managers) that is becoming the norm across the globe and a stable banking back-drop that provides solace for investors as well as opportunities for managers. Talent in investment management (approximately 10% of all CFA charterholders reside in Canada) as well as newer areas such as digital assets and robo-advisory services are a differentiator. Of course, Canadian investors and managers are keen to learn of best practices in operations and portfolio management from their global peers.

SYLVIE BERNIER - OLYMPIC GOLD MEDALIST

In winning the gold medal in the three-meter event at the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles, Sylvie Bernier made history by becoming the first Quebec athlete to win gold at the Olympics, as well as the first—and, to this date, the only—Canadian gold medallist in diving. Her win fuelled the dreams of an entire generation of athletes.

After this achievement, Sylvie retired from competition and took up a new cause: promoting a healthy lifestyle. She would do so on radio and television for more than 35 years. Following her degree in business administration, she completed in 2011 a master's degree at McGill University “International Masters for Health Leadership”. Since 2012, Sylvie has been a healthy lifestyle ambassador and chairs the Table sur le mode de vie physiquement actif (TMVPA) and the Table québécoise sur la saine alimentation (TQSA).

This Olympian has a rich and varied résumé. She embarked on a second career in communications as a radio host and speaker. A recipient of the Orders of Quebec and Canada, she was also inducted into the International Aquatic Sports Hall of Fame, the first Canadian to receive this honour in diving. Sylvie returned to the Olympic Games in a volunteer role as Assistant and Chef de Mission for the Canadian delegation in 2006, 2008 and in 2012, where the entire Canadian team appreciated her leadership.

In April 2019, she published a book and a documentary, both entitled “The day I could not dive”, having the drowning of her nephew Raphaël as a narrative. These allowed Sylvie to begin a next step of her great life project: awareness and prevention of drowning amongst children. She is the honorary spokesperson of the Lifesaving Society's Swim to Survive program. She dreams that all children in Quebec will be introduced to swimming.

Mother to three daughters, Sylvie Bernier is an inspiration for the generation that saw her dive for gold. She is dedicated to ensuring that the next generation grows up educated and healthy.

ADDING VALUE WITH ALTERNATIVE VIEWPOINTS

In our experience, speakers from outside of the asset management industry can provide welcome perspective on various aspects of work and life, such as perseverance, planning one's business, adapting to the market, or even just thinking about how other areas of thought can be applied to one's endeavour.
